Hi Karan! Thank you so much for teaching us economics this semester and help us grade our economics homework and exams! Hope to see you soon somewhere on campus and have a wonderful winter break!
I liked the way he though the material. He went more into detail and what students needed to hear. He knew what he was talking about. I could even say that I liked more his way of teaching than the instructor.
I hadn't personally talked to Karan, and the only interaction we've had is through Karan grading my exams.
Was a good TA for [REDACTED] Karan was a lot more organized and responded to emails in a timely manner. He also graded fairly and knew what Dr. [REDACTED] needed to make the class more efficient. Overall an excellent TA.
Karan did an excellent job, although I personally feel that he was instructed to do to more than he should have. He showed up early every morning to prep all of the lecture materials, and did all of our grading by hand, as well as handling any confusion on homework assignments. I think that he was doing more work than the actual professor was all things considered.
Karan was great. He was the glue that held this course together.
Karan was a great TA. During his office hours, he was willing to go over the questions we had in depth, and didn't mind if we didn't understand something. He was willing to go over the problems until we got it. He was very helpful and I appreciated him being a part of our class.
He is only a TA so he didn't get to speak as much as I would've liked but overall he was very good.
I think I would have enjoyed and understood the course better if Karan was teaching instead of [REDACTED]
Karan Shakya was a really good TA and supplied us with information, and was always on top of grades and was very organized in supplying the slides for us to study.
There was one lecture when the professor was away, and Karan stepped into lecture. Though he only taught for 45min, opposed to the 1.5 hr. that Dr. [REDACTED] teaches, I learned more in that 45min than I ever learned. From a student's perspective Karan did everything for the course but actually lecture during class. He was always willing to help students when they needed help understanding a concept and is usually the person students go to.
I often felt as Karan did more to make the class run smoothly and efficiently than Dr. [REDACTED]. The grading was confusing as the score was not calculated in Canvas and grades were put in for more points than they were out of. It was an inconvenience to have to put the grades in a grade calculator that was not sent out until late in the semester. The one time that the class content made sense was when Karan filled in for Dr. [REDACTED] and lectured. Karan was always available to answer questions and ask for help.
Thank you for being so kind and understanding this semester Karan I really appreciate it! Thank you for being so accommodating! Keep up the good work!
I feel bad for Karan. He had to do a lot of dirty work and did his best to keep things organized despite Dr. [REDACTED] being all over the place. He did a good job trying to keep things steady but the class is just terrible.
Much rather have Karan than the actual instructor.
Karan only taught one lecture during the semester but it was easy to understand and his teaching was extremely helpful.
